

It seems if our tele-marketing calls have been cut almost 100% then a law that was enacted to give relief to most people has actually worked. Unfortunately this is not the case in most instances. Don't give in to special interests just because they are going to support your next candidate, do the right thing and keep the law as it is. If you made all your decisions based on doing the right thing it would not require I write this because you know what is right and what is wrong.
